THE EIGHT EMAILS THAT EVERY AMERICAN SHOULD SEE

Produced as a public service
by The Free-Man's Perspective
Newsletter

Introduction

Men stumble over the truth from time to time, but most pick themselves up and hurry off as if nothing happened.
– Winston Churchill

With apologies to Shakespeare, the question currently before the American public is as simple as it is challenging: to see or not to see.

The WikiLeaks emails of 2016 gave America and the world a glimpse behind the facade delivered to us by Big Media, Hollywood and Washington. Truth now sits openly in front of the public. The question is how many people will pick it up and look at it, and how many will scurry off, not wanting to see.

The emails that are now available to us (via WikiLeaks and a few other sources) should, in my opinion, be dinner table conversation in every American home.

Most of the emails address the Democratic party, but please understand that the Republicans do the same things. Politicians of both parties created the current mess. Politicians of both parties sell their votes to donors, take orders from unelected party officials, and spend billions of dollars to instill fear in voters. They operate in almost exactly the same ways, and are members of the same elite class.

And so, I've represented this without reference to party politics. If we focus on parties, we get lost in endless quarrels and lose sight of the things that really matter.

There were of course tens of thousands of emails to choose from. I chose only a few for this collection; too many and it's easy to lose the crucial points in a torrent of words. The emails you'll find here are the ones that had especially significant content. Essentially, they're the ones that most overtly contradicted the civics lessons I was taught in American schools. I suppose that they'll be notable to you for the same reason.

I've introduced each of these emails with a few lines to highlight the main points. But please feel free to disregard my notes; the emails themselves are what really matter.

Please discuss these emails with your family members, friends, and co-workers. Truth is to be faced, not ignored... at least if we have any desire to be free in reality, not just in patriotic pageants.

It's a true saying that the truth will set you free. Choose to see it.

#1: Google Is Doing Spy Work

Shocking as it may be to many people, Google has been doing clandestine work that used to be done through official channels, as seen in this email from a former State Dept. security official. Please note the line, "Google is getting WH [White House] and State Dept. support and air cover. In reality they are doing things the CIA cannot do." Also note the line about Google fomenting uprisings.

GOOGLE is getting WH and State Dept. support & air cover. In reality, they are doing things the CIA cannot do. But, I agree with you. He's going to get himself kidnapped or killed. Might be the best thing to happen to expose GOOGLE's covert role in foaming up-risings, to be blunt. The US Govt can then disavow knowledge and GOOGLE is left holding the shit bag.

#2: Google and the US Defense Establishment

Note in these two emails that Keith Alexander, the Director of the NSA, was on a first name basis with the bosses of Google and called one of them "a key member of the Defense Industrial Base."

It was good seeing you recently after the meeting earlier this month.

Sergey,

Thank you for your team's participation in the Enduring Security Framework (ESF). I see ESF's work as critical to the nation's progress against the threat in cyberspace and really appreciate Vint Cerf, Eric Grosse and Adrian Ludwig's contributions to these efforts during the past year.

You recently received an invitation to the ESF Executive Steering Group meeting, which will be held on January 19, 2012. The meeting is an opportunity to recognize our 2011 accomplishments and set direction for the year to come. We will be discussing ESF's goals and specific targets for 2012. We will also discuss some of the threats we see and what we are doing to mitigate those threats.

I look forward to seeing you and to your participation in the discussions. Your insights, as a key member of the Defense Industrial Base, are valuable to ensure that ESF's efforts have a measurable impact.

#3: Media Collusion with Politicians

I was taught that the news media were important checks on political power and abuse. But however much this was true in my youth, it is no longer true. This email shows that a prominent commentator working for a major news outlet provided debate questions, in advance of that debate, to a presidential contender, rendering that debate a farce (though it looked ever so dignified to the public). The commentator, shortly after the email was revealed, was made head of the presidential campaign.

#7: Purposely Cultivating an Unaware and Compliant Populace.

The shocking (and insulting) passage in this email is obvious: "... we've all been quite content to demean government, drop civics and in general conspire to produce an unaware and compliant citizenry." This is impossible to reconcile with our schooling; nonetheless, the fact stands before us.

Dear John:

Well, we all thought the big problem for our US democracy was Citizens United/Koch Brothers big money in politics. Silly us; turns out that money isn't all that important if you can conflate entertainment with the electoral process. Trump masters TV, TV so-called news picks up and repeats and repeats to death this opinionated blowhard and his hairbrained ideas, free-floating discontent attaches to a seeming strongman and we're off and running. JFK, Jr would be delighted by all this as his "George" magazine saw celebrity politics coming. The magazine struggled as it was ahead of its time but now looks prescient. George, of course, played the development pretty lightly, basically for charm and gossip, like People, but what we are dealing with now is dead serious. How does this get handled in the general? Secretary Clinton is not an entertainer, and not a celebrity in the Trump, Kardashian mold; what can she do to offset this? I'm certain the poll-directed insiders are sure things will default to policy as soon as the conventions are over, but I think not. And as I've mentioned, we've all been quite content to demean government, drop civics and in general conspire to produce an unaware and compliant citizenry. The unawareness remains strong but compliance is obviously fading rapidly. This problem demands some serious, serious thinking – and not just poll driven, demographically-inspired messaging.

#8: Cabinet-Level Officials Are Reporting to Billionaires.

In fact, they check in with him for consultation. "GS" is George Soros. "Kerry" is John Kerry, then Secretary of State.

Ambassador: Secretary Kerry would be interested to hear GS's views on the situation directly, upon return from his trip.

It's also worth seeing the kinds of games these people were playing behind the scenes, and in the name of the American people. In this case, it involved some serious meddling in the Ukraine. (A fifth column is a group of people who purposely undermine another group.):

- We would rather have people there as fifth column- pivotal thing for future of Ukrainian society- continue to work with Crimean people

Last Words

The American people are, by and large, decent, productive people. However, they've been trained over long years to believe that their government is righteous, especially in all that it does overseas. Merely questioning that training can be very difficult for many Americans.

Standing in the face of that training, however, is the truth. And this brings us to a fundamental question:

Which is more important: the actual truth, or what we've previously confessed to be true?

All the great heroes of Western Civilization come down on the side of "actual truth, no matter what." And I believe that millions of Americans can come to the same courageous decision, provided they can see it clearly.

This little report has been my contribution toward making things clear.

– Paul Rosenberg, January 2017
